Integrated Design Student I UX/UI & Strategic Design

- Available for part-time roles and freelance projects.

Ambitious and analytical Integrated Design student with a strong background in UX/UI, visual systems, and strategic research. I view design as a powerful tool for cultural investigation, problem-solving, and identifying friction points to build intuitive, coherent digital experiences. Eager to apply my background in user experience, critical thinking, and system design to help train, refine, and shape the future of frontier AI systems.
